Update

Morgan Sindall is pleased to share that we have now begun the Main Works for the future St Richard Gwyn project.

Since our last update, progress has continued at pace. The flood – prevention scheme has advanced well, deep piling is complete, and foundations for the new building are firmly underway.

We're now gearing up for the main steel structure to start rising in early May, with the flood-prevention road works on track to finish by mid-May.

As part of the project, essential road works are taking place on Argae Lane. We scheduled these to begin at the start of the Easter break to help reduce disruption, and our team is working hard to complete the new pavements and utility connections by the end of May.

We appreciate your patience during this period and apologise for any inconvenience caused. Please be assured that we are doing everything we can to minimise disruption to the school and the wider community

We're proud to be delivering this project on behalf of the Vale of Glamorgan and look forward to completing a first-class facility for staff, pupils, and the local community.

There's a real buzz around the school and wider community with a number of exciting initiatives taking shape. The Cwmbrogi programme is alomst up and running, this will give pupils hands-on opportunities to build confidence, teamwork and real-world skills. A vibrant new art project will transform the underpass, created in collaboration with Hurt so Good and students to celebrate community identity. It's an energising time for everyone involved, and these projects are helping to strengthen connections both within the school and across the community.
